In Judge Howell's Court—Erdahl On Trial for Arson—Criminals Sentenced.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. M'KAY.

Sad Death of Mrs. Knight—Funeral of Mrs. Bickington—Crusade Against Cigarettes—Weddings.

Ogden, Utah, Jan. 11.—The stockholders of the banks of this city held their annual meetings yesterday, electing their officers for the ensuing year and transacting the business usually transacted at the meetings of stockholders.

At the Utah National bank all the old directors were re-elected, and the directors re-elected their former officers, as follows: John E. Dooly, president; H. E. Peery, vice president; H. J. Peery, W. B. Stanley and K. C. Belcher are the other three directors. R. E. Hoag was elected cashier and A. V. Mackintosh assistant cashier. A short time ago the board of directors declared a dividend of 12 per cent.

The Ogden State bank re-elected the following: H. C. Bigelow, president; John M. Browning, vice president; A. T. Bigelow, cashier; Robert A. Moyes, assistant cashier. These, and the following constitute the board of directors: G. L. Becker, J. H. Spargo, O. A. Parnley, John K. Spies, A. J. Warner and E. L. Van Mater. A special 4 per cent dividend was then declared, in addition to the usual quarterly dividends.

The Commercial National bank organization is as follows: J. W. Guthrie, president; P. Healy, vice president; H. E. Heywood, cashier. The other directors are Ed Conant, Henry Conant, O. M. Rynyon and J. N. Ireland. The first national bank re-elected all its old directors, excepting that M. S. Browning takes the place of James Pingree, who, since the last election, has organized another bank. The directors of this bank now stand: Joseph Eccles, Thomas Dee, Adam Patterson, George H. Tribe, W. V. Ritter, Joseph Clark, Barnard White, John Watson and M. S. Browning. These directors also elected as directors of the Ogden Savings bank. They will meet Friday for the purpose of organization and for the transaction of usual business.

ERDAHL BEFORE JUDGE HOWELL

Niels Christensen, some times called Niels Erdahl, was on trial yesterday before Judge Howell in the district court, on the charge of arson. The testimony of the prosecution was all put in and followed closely the lines laid down in the preliminary hearing. The principal witness against Christensen was Mrs. Grow, the woman with whom he had been living in the house which was burned down.

The prosecuting attorney also introduced some letters written by Christensen to Mrs. Grow since the former has been confined in the jail. The letters were written in Norwegian and were of a somewhat degrading character. In one of them he tells Mrs. Grow that she must go at once to his attorney and arrange to deny everything that would incriminate the writer. He also wrote that he would empower her to sell one of his cows to live on if she would do this. The defense sought to exclude the letters on technical grounds, but the objection was overruled by Judge Howell.

Judge Howell yesterday imposed a number of sentences, as follows: M. E. Conley, two years for burglary; Joseph Pacey, three years for grand larceny; D. A. West, two years for burglary; and William Farrell, three years for the same crime.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST CIGARETTES.

Fully 500 persons were in attendance at the meeting held last night in the tabernacle in furtherance of the movement against the cigarette habit. Besides Dr. Willis Brown, a number of prominent citizens who have joined the movement, made short addresses. Among them were Clarence Wright, selected as president of the local league, and Ralph Shirk, another young man, who is prominent in the movement. William Allison, city superintendent of schools, also spoke.

Dr. Willis Brown, who had visited the state industrial school during the day, based his talk on the information that he received in making this visit. He was in effect that nearly every boy confined there and acknowledged that before he was sent to that institution he was badly addicted to the cigarette habit.

There were fully 500 persons in attendance, most of them Dr. Brown goes to Salt Lake today to address a meeting at Harriet hall tonight. Tomorrow he will return to Ogden and a meeting will be held at the city hall at 11 o'clock, when an advisory committee will be named.

IN MEMORIAM.

A tribute of respect to Sister Jennie E. McKay, from the student-body of the Weber Stake academy. Once again the black barge has been sent by our heavenly Father to carry one of the loved ones from our midst to that land of love and peace beyond the veil. In his wisdom, He has deemed it necessary to have more laborers to carry on his glorious work in our last life but a transition through, we cannot help but miss the dear one who has been called; so, as students of the Weber Stake academy, we extend our love to our dear principal and teachers, and to our fellow students, who are now left wife and mother—the dearest. The life of Sister of the home. Send out like a mountain-view from a distant plain, its details are lost to view, leaving only magnitude and splendor to the happy beholder; and only upon closer examination are its grandeur and beauty fully realized. From her noble character, we all may learn many lessons. She always extended a hand of aid, and a word of sympathy to the needy and distressed. Through her angelic influence she has left all who knew her, and has left in the hearts of all her children a realization of the words:

"And she of whom you speak My mother, looks as whole as some serene Creation minted in the golden moods Of sovereign artists; not a thought, not a touch But pure as lines of green that streak the white Of the first snow-drop's inner leaves."

Always in the battle of life, she was in the front ranks of the army of love, carrying the banner with the simple line, "Our duty is to save." Sincerely she went about her labors of kindness, seeking not the praise of men, but the blessings and treasures in heaven which far has now become claims. To the bereaved husband and family, we wish to say that our hearts are with you in this affliction. We feel indebted to Bishop and Sister McKay for our loving teachings who bear their names, and our prayer is that we may live a life of goodness, so that we may all associate together in that land where our heart shall reign, and the pure in heart shall dwell in the eternal radiance of celestial glory.

SAD DEATH OF MAGGIE KNIGHT.

The remains of Mrs. Maggie Knight, wife of Samuel Knight, who died Sunday night in this city from acute nephritis at the age of 31 years, were shipped to Brigham City last evening by Larkin & Son. The funeral will be held at Brigham today.

The mortal remains of Mrs. Ann Bickington, one of the pioneer women of Weber county, were laid to rest in the family burial ground in the Ogden city cemetery yesterday afternoon. Choice musical selections were furnished by the ward choir. The speakers were Sisters Jane S. Richards, Harriet C. Brown and Sister Marriott whose remarks were eulogistic of the noble work accomplished by the deceased in the Relief society of the ward whose president she had been for many years. The other speakers were Elders Hans Macdonald, John D. Powers, Arthur Parsons of Salt Lake, Patriarch George W. Larkin and Bishop Marriott, who paid a glowing tribute to her memory, referring to her faithfulness to the faith she had espoused in her native land, England. BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Trouble Ahead Over Union Depot Proposition—News Briefs.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Jan. 11.—The board of education met last evening and transacted the following business: The committee on finance reported having expended $20,000, and having $10,000 in the treasury with which to conduct the schools for the remainder of the school year. Of the $30,000 so far expended, $5,000 has been for buildings. Miss Lydia Knudsen and Mr. O. V.

Harris were employed as teachers in the Timpanogos school. Addresses were made by members of the outgoing board and Secretary Jensen, all expressing of good will and satisfaction over the cordial feelings that had been exhibited in the labors of the members of the board.

The new board was then installed and the following officers elected: W. E. Bassett, president; John W. Farver, vice president; J. M. Jensen, who has been the clerk of the board for several terms, was again appointed to that office, and Joseph W. D. Alexander, treasurer.

The following standing committees were appointed: The committee on finance, John W. Farver and E. H. Holt. Buildings and grounds, W. D. Alexander and John W. Farver. Finance, L. L. Nelson, W. D. Alexander, School work, E. H. Holt, L. L. Nelson and W. D. Alexander. Teachers, all the members of the board.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING.

The Commercial club held a special session last evening to hear the report of the committee on union depot, which was to the effect that the committee had been called to Salt Lake City by the railroad officials and informed that they had selected Third West street for the depot. Chairman Taylor so reported without any comment, as did Mr. Spafford. Mr. Tait, also of the committee, said he had not been treated right in the matter, and announced that the railroad companies must come out in the open and fight, as he did not want to be made a football of.

There were other speakers on the matter of the report. Mr. Knight expressed the idea that he had always thought the railroad companies intended to build the depot, but now he had read that the West Center street people had subscribed $5,000 as a bonus for having the depot located on Third street, and it looked to him as if the railroad wanted the people to build the depot for them. He hoped the city council would see to it that the people did not throw this amount of money away.

Thomas F. Pierpont expressed surprise that there was any dissatisfaction with the work of the committee. The committee had been appointed to secure a union depot and had the promise of one, and thought all the members would be pleased with their work. P. Decker, while expressing himself as personally favoring Acad avenue, called attention to a meeting with railroad officials here last March, when the president and other members of the club had told the officials that they wanted a union depot and would leave the matter of a location to them. Now the selection had been made, he did not see that there was anything to do consistently other than to accept it. The report was finally accepted and the committee discharged.

A burglary of the New York Clothing company's store was prevented by Nightwatchman Wilkins. The store was about three o'clock. Mr. Wilkins was on the corner of the block, and heard the crash of broken glass in the rear of some of the buildings. When he made his way to the back of the narrow alley, he found a large pane of window glass had been broken, but the burglar had made his escape, which was no doubt accelerated by a pistol shot fired by Mr. Wilkins as he emerged from the alley into the yard. The glass had been broken with great force, presumably with a club, as the pieces were thrown a great distance across the floor.
